

Leftist Trend Chosen Topic For Vermont Return Match

Interfaculty, Varsity Meets Are Arranged

The return debate with the University of Vermont is scheduled for Thursday, December 6 when a team will arrive at McGill to discuss the topic "Resolved: that the tendency to the left in World Politics is inevitable."

Last Friday, a McGill team journeyed to Burlington to debate on the topic "Resolved that the foreign policy of the United States should be directed towards the establishment of free trade amongst the nations of the world." Defending the negative side of the argument, the University of Vermont defeated the McGill debaters.

Those who wish to participate in the debate are asked to prepare a five-minute speech on either side of the topic. Eliminations will be held in the Union on Wed., November 28 at 5:30 p.m. at which time the two best speakers will be selected.

VARSITY DEBATE

The big item on the agenda of the Debating Union at present is the Varsity Debate scheduled for Monday, November 28. This debate is scheduled to begin at Moyse Hall at 8:00 p.m. The general public is invited by the Debating Union Executive to attend.

Professor John Humphrey of the Faculty of Arts and Honorary President of the McGill Debating Union, will act as chairman for the evening. Judges for the evening include Professor Cullen, Dr. Dangeizer, and Professor Quinn of the Department of Political Science.

In Montreal, the McGill team of George Annett and John G. Rowe will defend the affirmative side of the topic "Resolved that this house favor unrestricted immigration to Canada for the next ten years." Opposing them will be Shirley MacQueen and Telford Georges of Varsity.

At the same time Winston Mahabir and J. MacDonald are travelling to Toronto where they will uphold the negative side of the same topic at Convocation Hall on Monday night.

INTERFACULTY DEBATES

On Tuesday, November 27, the first interfaculty debate takes place with R.V.C. opposing the Engineers. The topic of this debate is "Resolved that in this age it is better to marry for money instead of love." This debate will be held in Room 33 of the Engineering Building.

IUDL Eliminations

On Thursday of next week the IUDL eliminations will take place. This event is the high-point of the season's activities and marks an eight college fight for Canadian University Debating Supremacy. The topic of this elimination and the ensuing debates is "Resolved that all Canadian young men should give one year's military service to his country."

On December 11, a McGill team of Florence Trotter and Margie

Varsity Labour Club Participates in Picket

Toronto, Nov. 22. — (CUP) — Varsity's Labor-Progressive Club voted this week to participate actively in a mass picket of the Imperial Optical Company of Toronto by the United Electrical Workers of America (CIO).

Many clubs and organizations in the city to have prepared to join in this action to take place November 22. At this meeting Henry Rosenfeld, the LP representative on the Students' Fact-Finding Committee, was empowered to ask its members for action on behalf of the UAW and UAW strikers in Windsor and Toronto. Rosenfeld outlined the club's views on the various issues involved in the Ford strike, and went on to say that students had a much greater interest in fair labor rights than their generally unconcerned attitude implied.

Message to Russians Circulated on Campus

Today lists will be circulated around the Campus and students are asked to sign them. On the front page there is a message by Canadians to the people of Soviet Russia in form of a poem by the Canadian poet, Mr. E. J. Pratt. It is expressing the friendly feeling of the Canadian people toward their Allies in war and in peace, the people of Russia.

Many such lists have already been filled by people all over Canada, and here in Montreal, the action was started by the Very Rev. Dean of Canterbury, last Tuesday. By signing, students will express their wish to live in peace with Russia in a new world, one based on understanding and not fear, on peace, not war.

Kowarski to Tell Of Atomic Work Thru C.A.Sc.W.

Scientist Left Paris On Bicycle at German Invasion of France

Dr. Leo Kowarski, European scientist, who is noted for his work on atomic energy, will address a meeting of the Canadian Association of Scientific Workers on Monday at 8:30 p.m. in the Union Ballroom. All students are welcome to attend.

Dr. Kowarski was born in Leningrad and received his education in Russia, Poland and France. He came to France at the time the atomic energy project was being undertaken by Joliot-Curie. Joliot-Curie is the son-in-law of the famous Madame Curie, having married her author-journalist daughter Eve.

At the fall of Paris, Dr. Kowarski was entrusted by Dr. Joliot-Curie with the mission of carrying the results of atomic research to England. The latter was loath to leave his native France where his services were needed in the underground movement. The coming of the Germans to Paris saw Leo Kowarski leaving the city on a bicycle.

In England, the Russian-born scientist worked with Dr. James Chadwick on the National Research Council at Cambridge. He was sent to Canada at the end of 1940. Here he was instrumental in establishing the laboratories of the National Research Council in Montreal.

Several cases of exhibits will be received from the Macdonald College Handicraft Department, according to word received from Dr. Ivan H. Crowell, director of handicrafts. Members of the McGill extra-curricular classes in leather, plastics, and weaving will also exhibit specimens of their handicraft.

Articles suitable for display include any of the following: Metal and pottery work, collections, designs for jewelry and costumes, drawings, paintings, photographs, etchings, linocuts, sculpture and others.

Dr. Pavlasch To Speak at I.S.D. Rally

Czech Minister Addresses Meet In Ballroom

Dr. F. Pavlasch, present Czechoslovakian Minister to Canada will speak at the International Student's Day Rally to be held in the Union Ballroom at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 27.

A graduate of the University of Prague, Dr. Pavlasch studied law under Masaryk, who was later the first President of Czechoslovakia.

Since his graduation Dr. Pavlasch has devoted himself to the diplomatic service of his country. During the last war, he served as Minister of Supply and was also sent to Warsaw. His next post brought him to London as a Consul from 1921-29. In 1934, he was the Czech Consul General here in Montreal. He was promoted to his most recent office, that of Czechoslovakian Minister to Canada in 1942.

This is the first time that International Students' Day has been celebrated in Czechoslovakia. It was in the commemoration of the ill treatment that Prague students received at the hands of the Nazis, when they held a Student demonstration in celebration of their Independence Day, that the International Students Service was founded.

The Organizing Committee of the International Students' Day Rally has sent a suitable cable to the International Students' Congress with headquarters at Prague.

W.G. McCutcheon Will Speak Today

Former Lieutenant To Explain to Club Basic Party Principles

W. Gordon McCutcheon will address the inaugural meeting of the Labor-Progressive Party Club in the Union Grill Room at 5 p.m. today.

Mr. McCutcheon was a candidate in the federal constituency of St. Lawrence-St. George in the last election. The topic of his address will be "The L.P.P.—The Party of Scientific Socialism," in which the basic party principles as well as its policies and program in the present Canadian reconversion period will be discussed.

Recently discharged from the Canadian Armoured Corps where he held a commissioned rank, Mr. McCutcheon is an anti-Fascist of long standing. As Montreal chairman of the League for Peace and Democracy, Mr. McCutcheon in 1938 was a staunch fighter for collective security against Nazi and Fascist aggression when the Munich policy of appeasement was still the keynote of the foreign policy of the Western Democracies.

In addition the club executive will present a tentative program of education in scientific socialism as well as the activities of the club in the Mock Parliament and the pre-conference discussion of the National Confederation of Canadian University Students. All students are invited to attend to become acquainted with the aims of the club.

Arts and Science Dance At Union Next Friday

By MARY MOXON.

An informal dance, sponsored by the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society in conjunction with the Union House Committee, will be held on Friday, November 30.

The third informal in the current series, this dance provides a further opportunity for all gregarious students to mix with the crowds they love. Taking place in the Union Ballroom at 9 o'clock, dancing will be to the accompaniment of the music evolved by Johnny Holmes and his orchestral aggregation.

Overflow from the Ballroom will find accommodation in the Reading Room, a locale which has the reputation of being more convivial than its name might indicate to the more studious among us. Here, the nickleodeon will manufacture the music for the dancers.

Tickets, purchasable for the sum of 75 cents, may be procured from the Union Tuck Shop or from representatives, beginning Monday. For your layout of six bits, visual entertainment will be an addition to the program, with Bandmaster Johnny Holmes and his coterie putting on an act in their usual inimitable manner.

The feasibility of serving refreshments has been duly debated at length by the committee in charge of the dance. They have finally decided that an adequate supply of comestibles suitably commensurate will make their appearance at an appropriate time during the evening's celebration.

The loan drive headed by Em Orlick, as campaign director, had already reached its objective by the ninth of November when the $50,000 figure was attained. Nominations Due From 7 Faculties By 2 p.m. Today

Scarlet Key, R.V.C. Red Wing Nominees Also To Be Entered

Nominations for the representative from Royal Victoria College to the Students' Council, and representatives from the faculties of Arts and Science, Engineering, Medicine, Law and Dentistry, Theology and the School of Commerce are due at Mr. Fletcher's office in the Union today at 2:00 p.m. with Red Wing and Scarlet Key nominations closing at the same time this afternoon.

Concerning the R.V.C. representative to the Students' Council, Merle Caford, President of the Women's Union, stated that this student is the only woman undergraduate who is elected directly to the Council, and that she is therefore one of the two women on the Council. She stressed the fact that the women's representative may be any woman undergraduate student in good standing, and that by her position on the council, she becomes the Vice-President of the McGill Women's Union.

Red Wing and Scarlet Key nominations are also called in today. The Red Wing Society requires two representatives from first, second and third years to be nominated. In addition, first year physical education and first year physiotherapy will nominate one representative each. Red Wing nominations are to be signed by 15 women students and left at R.V.C. for Anne Macdermot by 2 p.m. Requirements for Scarlet Key nominations are as follows:

Group "A":

Queen's University To Probe Damages

Kingston, November 22. (CUP.) — The Alma Mater Society court of Queen's University met this week in closed session to discuss reports on damage inflicted on the Toronto and McGill campus during the two out-of-town rugby week-ends. The meeting, not open to the public, was held in the Medical House. Exactly what action was taken has not been revealed. It is known, however, that reports drawn up in connection with the attack on the University of Toronto buildings were studied.

It is further expected that any formal indictments in connection with the cost were laid at that time. Preliminary hearings into the McGill damages for which the university had submitted a $483 bill to Queen's, were also opened.

McGILL VETERANS TO PRESENT BRIEF TO GOVERNMENT

Chorus Auditions To Be Held Today In Union Ballroom

Directors Engage Pro To Instruct Girls in Dancing

By Keith Tiesahw

The preliminary tryouts of the chorus line for the Red and White Revue are to be held this afternoon in the Union Ballroom at 6 p.m. under the critical eye of Ronald Gillespie, the Dance Director.

All those who signed the interview cards indicating their intention to 'dance' in the chorus, as well as those who have not already registered, are asked to attend. It is emphasized that this may be the first rung on the ladder of fame for some fortunate (or otherwise) stunning (or otherwise) co-ed. So come on all you prospective Betty Grables and Lana Turners, the salary consists of one heck of a lot of fun and many new intriguing friendships, at least we hope they may prove intriguing.

Are you a wallflower? There is really no need of being such an animal, all you have to do is bring along a sweater, shorts and low heeled shoes to the Union this afternoon. This latter commodity does not include moccasins, loafers or 'baby dolls'.

These auditions are to continue for a number of days, and the final selections will be made at the end of this period. As the Revue is forseen as an unparalleled extravaganza, there must naturally be a very large chorus, so there is plenty of opportunity of being afforded the dubious honour of dancing in the Revue. However, it is pointed out by the Directors that in order to be able to make a selection there must be enough applicants to make a selection from. This is an important point, as its only alternative is that the production schedule will be put back considerably.

It is also announced by the Directors that the male dancers will be chosen within the next few days; as it is reported that there is an acute woman shortage on the campus, here is your chance to snaffle a steady.

Hebrew Lectures To Be Conducted

Students Invited To Classes in Literature, Reading and Language

A series of lectures on Hebrew Literature and traditions will be conducted under the auspices of the Hillel Foundation. Those interested are invited by the executive to attend.

The courses will include classes in Hebrew conversation and reading; the vocabulary although modern will enable students to appreciate classic Hebrew as well. There will also be lectures in Creative Group Education by Mr. Bill Hymovitch B.Sc. assisted by guest experts. The classes will include Psychology of group guidance, programme planning, and specific workshops in arts and crafts, music, dramatics, and other related topics.

There are courses also being given in Hebrew Customs and Ceremonies, and in Jewish History, stressing their applications and influences in contemporary life. These classes will be taught by Rabbi Avraham Soltes.

The Cultural Committee has drawn up a time-table, scheduling the most popular courses at the hours most convenient for the majority of students interested.

This Schedule will be found under Club News on page four.

Will Send Results Of Questionnaire On Living Costs

Presentation of a brief, containing facts on maintenance grants and housing of McGill ex-servicemen, to the Parliamentary Committee of Veterans Affairs was decided yesterday at a general membership meeting of the McGill Student Veteran's Society in the Union Ballroom.

Results of a questionnaire, on which the brief will be based, which was filled out by over three hundred and fifty vets, showed a marked inadequacy in the existing maintenance grants. The income of the average single ex-serviceman is $80, and his expenses amount to $100. This means that he has to supply the forty dollars from his own resources. This also applies in the case of married veterans whose income averages $80 and expenses $150.

HOUSING PROBLEM

Housing is a problem, but not an immediate one, the questionnaire showed. While some dissatisfaction was expressed with present accommodation, there were no desperate cases.

All these facts will be compiled into a brief, and presented to the Parliamentary Committee on Veterans Affairs now sitting in Ottawa. The President of the McGill group stated that these figures should be of assistance to those on the Committee who are interested in mending the present rehabilitation legislation.

A report of the housing situation by John Switzman of the housing committee stated that the problem of housing is one of the most importance. However up to the present nobody has applied to live at St. Paul's Hermitage Lodge there are open to married vets without children.

D.V.A. REPORT

A report was given in connection with the D.V.A. councillor. Although a man cannot be spared for the McGill University, arrangements have been made to have groups meet one evening on a pre-arranged basis. Arrangements have also been made for medical attention. Capt. Jack Pearce is to take on the job as liaison officer between the students and D.V.A.

A report from the entertainment committee announced that it is planned to hold a cocktail party or a tea dance on December 8.

It was declared that a pamphlet for the information of incoming veterans will be prepared. It was also announced that a system will be arranged to have the vets enroll in the Society when they register for university courses.

The NFCUS (2)

(Ed. Note—The following is the second in a series of editorials to be devoted to a discussion of the problems and aims of the National Federation of Canadian University Students. To day's editorial deals with the Constitution of the NFCUS, which was revised at last year's annual meeting, and which is one of a number of subjects drawn up by the NFCUS Committee of the McGill Students' Executive Council for discussion at McGill prior to the NFCUS Conference for this year.)

The main object of a constitution is to provide a body with a working basis from which that body can deal adequately with all situations which may fall under its jurisdiction. To do this a constitution must provide the body with a name, an object, an administrative committee or officers, an outline of the duties of these officers, a method by which the financial expenses of the body can be handled, and a few rules governing procedure.

With this basis, the body can then proceed to fulfil its aims. To encumber the constitution with more rules than necessary leads to confusion in administration and to tie-ups in solving the problems which face the constitution, particularly when these problems are those facing college students, as these are variable from year to year. On the other hand, a weak constitution can easily lead to disputes between members on what subjects fall under the jurisdiction of the council, who has the authority to settle these disputes, and what the limitations of such a body might be.

A constitution must therefore contain enough factual clauses to prevent misinterpretation, and yet leave enough leeway for changes to be made in the laws governing the body to permit it to keep pace with the variable factors affecting the organization.

In our opinion the amended constitution of the NFCUS fulfills these aims. Briefly summarized the constitution provides the organization with a name, an object, a language, and a working Executive Council. It stipulates membership qualifications, and sets up a group of officers capable of handling the routine work of the organization. It further provides for the financial means by which such an organization is operated, and leaves members open to call meetings upon questions by obtaining a two-thirds majority vote from the constituent members. A quorum clause and an amendment clause are also present in the constitution. A set of ten bylaws outline in more exact detail the actual functioning of the Federation. These were, of course, amended and ratified with the constitution at the 1944 Annual Meeting.

This constitution provides a working basis from which the Federation may further its aims. It fulfills its purpose without restricting the organization in any way, yet it serves as a code of rules to prevent useless digression into fields with which it cannot deal.

A discussion of the Constitution of NFCUS, while it would prove valuable inasmuch as it would give students an opportunity to study the mechanisms of the Federation and its aims, is valueless in that in its present form it fulfills all the requirements of such a charter necessary at the present time.

THIS R.V.C.
by R.C.V.

Hi kinds, I'm back again. It's wonderful what one learns when one writes a gossip column; all kinds of people have been telling me all kinds of things all week, and six people whom I have never suspected accused me of being unfair to them in one paragraph. It's a great racket too. One of my colleagues at Dawson is the author of a column called "The Axe." It's been running for five weeks now and hasn't reached The Daily yet. But then his withholding fee is only two bucks a paragraph.

One of the good old campus songs seemed to be undergoing a popular revival on the campus last week. I heard it at the Engineers' Union Informal last Friday, sung to the tune of John Brown's Body. The words go something like this: "We are, we are, we are the engineers. We can, we can, we can drink forty beers; so come, so come, so come and drink with us, for we don't give a damn for any old man that don't give a damn for us." For the less musically inclined the words can also be shouted in unison.

Another little ditty which has been rather popular of late simply pleads: "Oh kiss me once and kiss me twice and kiss me once again." Some of the girls really mean it too.

Sympathy

This column extends its sympathy to my fellow column writers Al Tunis, Me, ann n' sorry whom J. C. Nihil politely but passionately considers puerile, and to all my readers who think, correctly or otherwise, that I have put the bee on them.

Thanks

To my informants in R.V.C. and in Strathcona Hall who keep me up to date on all that is happening, and to the very helpful geologist who sees all the right people at the wrong time. Next week I hope to print some of the material that you have given me.

Congratulations

To the Prom Committee, I enjoyed the dance hugely, and to myself for hacking this column out in 40 minutes after Professor G had kept me working for 26 hours straight without food or sleep in a gallant attempt to save The Daily from my reappearance. Also worthy of mention is my lab partner who comes to lectures so seldom that no one realizes that he is registered in the courses. So successful has this been that I alone have missed him. After Christmas Bill you can go to the lectures and I'll sleep in.

Contribution

From Miss J. C. Nihil (indirectly).

A Violinist Tours
—Isaac Stern

In the time usually allotted to a tour Isaac Stern, young American violinist managed to make four. Beginning a year ago last June at the end of his usual concert journey across the country and back, in the course of which he played nine different concerti, he and his faithful Achates, the presario Hurok, set forth by plane at the season's close to bring good music to outposts in northern Canada, Greenland and Iceland. From this he hurried back to California to prepare his busiest tour yet, starting with an appearance at the Hollywood Bowl as guest artist with the symphony orchestra in September.

The twenty-five-year-old musician refuses to admit he was ever a child prodigy. He started playing the piano at the age of six but turned to the violin two years later because he was curious about the strange sounds produced by a next-door neighbor in his daily practicing.

Except for a year spent in New York under the tutelage of Louis Persinger, Stern says he has his home town to thank for all his training, notably under the guidance of Naoum Blinder, concertmaster of the San Francisco Symphony.

Stern's impresario certainly knows a good musician. Hurok's list of talent is astounding. Since war quarantined the continent for five years he has turned to home fields and Jan Pearce, leading tenor at the Met; Katherine Dunham, dancer-anthropologist; Spokane's baby coloratura, Patrice Munsel. And it was Hurok, who brought

DIARY - NOVEMBER 24, 1945

Dear Diary—
Joe said "Wear something that goes with orchids"—so, of course, I'm wearing my new Klever Klad date dress to the Senior Prom. It's as smart as a dance tune by Dorsey. Cute cap sleeves, — a tricky peplum — and the most wonderful neckline. Hope it gets me as much attention as Mom and Sis got when they wore their new Klever Klad to the Sorority Tea this afternoon. P.S. Joe's orchids just arrived.

There's a dress just for you at your favourite shop, from 14.95 to 22.95

Of course it's Klever Klad

Time and Tide

The Wonderful Junior Prom.

The crowd turns, the circle swings round and around, skirts billow and the lights are shining. It is Prom, the wonderful Junior Prom.

Everyone looks different, everyone looks their best. Long skirts crowd in the doorway, necklaces and bracelets sparkle, perilous hair-dos bend and lovely faces smile.

The men are very solemn, all the shirt fronts gleam, and the suits are very black against the white dresses.

A waltz . . . round and round the tall, straight couples turn and sway ever so slightly . . . as if caught in a gentle wind.

At a table, a tall, red haired girl in green taffeta smiles. The taffeta rustles and her eyes are very dark. In a moment her dress will be in the centre, a nucleus of colour, a point of light around which turns the crowd of beautiful people.

In a corner another girl is emptying a bottle. She shakes it and turns it upside down. No more. Never mind, her tall, handsome and distinguished looking escort is bringing another.

Ah, the Prom, the wonderful Junior Prom.

Another Policyholder Reports...

"MY HUSBAND owns three policies in The Mutual Life of Canada, which he has taken out at various times for my protection and our retirement. Two are Ordinary Life and one is Family Income.

"If anything happens to him and I am left alone to bring up the children, I shall have an income from the insurance, and some cash to pay the bills and a reserve for emergencies. And if he lives to retirement age the cash values will give us an income.

"But I also have a policy on my own life, because I want him to be able to provide proper care for the children if anything happens to me. Our Mutual Life representative pointed out that Canadian government figures prove that in one case out of every three the wife dies before the husband.

"We chose The Mutual Life in which to insure because of the good reputation of the Company for fair dealing and low cost insurance."

The History of the Shoe

The year 1861 marks the transition of shoe-production in the United States from the stage of experimentation to that of full industry. From this time on, a tireless effort has been made to adapt the shoe to the foot. Whereas, formerly, it was the foot that had been adapted to the shoe.

The Slater Shoe Co. Ltd., founded in Montreal in 1869, specializes in the manufacture of a fine, "first-quality" shoe. It is one of the few factories to have continued to our time.

Intercollegiate Puck Pushers Selected Today

Exhibition Games Are to Afford Pre-Loop Practice

The mills of the Red machine began to grind Wednesday, as Coach Dave Campbell announced the names of eighteen men to form the nucleus from which the McGill entry in the Intercollegiate hockey loop will finally be selected. There will be a practice at the Forum at noon today for the men mentioned below. Vying for the position of twine tender are Gelineau, Dobell, and Curry, while Beck, Bridel, Broderick, Gosselin, Heron, and Mingie are all candidates for the spots on the home side of the blue line. Up forward, prospective Red and White colour bearers are Costigan, T. Hale, G. Hale, Allen, Porteous, Piersen, Pittfield, Sinclair and Spiller.

Under Intercollegiate rulings, only twelve men may be carried on the team, which leaves Coach Campbell with the difficult task of further paring after today's practice. Any teeth which are drawn today, however, are practically certain of a niche on the Intermediate team, which has a good season ahead of it.

EXHIBITION GAMES

It has been announced that before the Intercollegiate circuit gets under way, there will be a series of exhibition games to apply last minute polish to the senior pucksters and provide McGill rooters with a chance to get acquainted with the team they are to support throughout the season.

Despite the impressive reports coming in on the strength of the other entries in the Intercollegiate Hockey race, Coach Campbell is confident that McGill's first post-war aggregation will be better than any of the last few years, and capable of giving a good account of itself with any man's team. The big problem is making a selection from the large amount of high grade material on his hands.

Favorites Advance In Snooker Play

Villeneuve and Korman Reach Quarter Finals With Timely Victories

Cue-wielders on the second story of the Union in the little alcove to your right are getting down to serious Snookering as the race for the campus's champ of the green-covered tables gets really hot. Upsets have been the order of the day so that the so-called sharks are beginning to quake in their chalked shoes.

VILLENEUVE WINS

To raise himself into the quarter finals L. P. Villeneuve had to overcome the psychological effect of being up against a highly-touted marksman before he was able to make a brilliant ending drive to defeat L. J. Sherman, in yesterday's most thrilling fixture. He is now in the quarter-finals along with W. Korman who found it easy soap to come out on top against N. Zaine in two straight.

Showing himself to find it just as easy to sink little coloured balls in the mesh as it is to do it with the big brown one on the basketball court, George Davidson came through as expected, being a third-ceded player, with a win over C. Lannan to enter the quarter-finals. This afternoon will give the fans of this game of Snooker a chance to see the man who was able to

Senior Basketball Practises Continue

Face Georgians Next Wednesday in Second Game of Twin Bill

With one roughly contested game full of experience below their belts, the McGill senior basketball squad along with their very capable coach Lou Davies, are looking forward with great aspiration to the game against the victorious Georgians next Wednesday night at the Sir Arthur Currie Gym in the aftermath of a twin bill. The first game of the night will feature the debut of the newly formed ex-servicemen team, the Shipmates versus the Y.M.H.A. quintet.

DAVIS SATISFIED

As a result of the first tilt of the season, in which the Redmen dropped a close decision to the powerful Y.M.H.A. squad by the score of 40-38, the youthful coach has announced that he was perfectly satisfied with the individual performances of the various players. Up till now, his main interest was to teach the squad the fundamentals of the game through organized practices, but that in the future the team would concentrate on systematic basketball plays.

The Red and White quintet were idle yesterday because of the Prom, but all members of the senior squad are asked to turn out tonight at 5 p.m., to continue practices. Proceeding with intensified scrimmages and increased shooting practice, the team will do their utmost to take their initial win next Wednesday. Considerable interest has

Softball Title at Stake Today As Plumbers, Artsmen Clash

The World Series of McGill begins a one-day stand today when Arts and Science III & IV squares off with the favored Engineering III team, last year's champions, in a seven-inning tilt for the Gunn Cup.

Both teams pack ample batting punch to back up their excellent pitching staffs. The schedule saw the two nines go through four games without a defeat. Now they meet in the "Battle of the Giants." At this affair all the traditional rivalry between the two faculties will blossom forth as the chips ride with the winner.

For the Artsmen, star hurler Eli Solomon has pitched effective ball throughout. In the last two games he has allowed a total of only five hits. Backing him up in these games has been some timely hitting. Blomfield was the hitting star of the last game. Along side him Knight, Sheppard and Sirola have come through very effectively. Solomon himself along with Captain Ed Rossy were to be feared when at the plate.

NO WEAK SPOTS

Defensively as well the team boasts no weak spots. Heller has been a tower of strength at first base, coming up with two timely and game winning double plays. Sirola, a late starter has shared the catching duties very ably with Shatner. In the out-field Cherney has played the "walls" with the gay abandon of a Ripple or a Seeds, turning potential hits into sure-fire outs.

On the other hand the Engineering team has great capabilities. Behind the plate, Laflamme is second to none in the league. His hitting and catching leave nothing to be desired. On the mound Read has shown himself to be a master of control. When he and Solomon

Water-Polo Practices Begin Today at 5 p.m.

Irwin Fineberg, manager of the McGill water-polo team announced today that any city league that might be organized, would see this university represented. For the present, games at the intercollegiate swimming and water-polo meet scheduled to take place at Queen's in January of next year and exhibition games against the Knights of Columbus, M.A.A.A. and the Y.M.H.A. are the only contests definitely on the horizon.

Peter Kellaway, water-polo coach and ex-Aussie swimming great, has great hopes for the local seven and feels sure that given adequate support and a full turnout at all practices—which take place every Wednesday and Friday afternoon from 5 to 7—this year's team will follow in the great footsteps of the McGill teams of old who toured the continent unconquered after the turn of the century.

QUEEN'S TO PAY

Kingston, Ont., Nov. 23—G—Harold Thomas, Chief Justice of Queen's University alma mater society, said last night a court has decided to fine Queen's students $500 for damages to Varsity Stadium in Toronto and Molson Stadium in Montreal in pre-game celebrations at college football games this season.

Ping Pong Tourney Marked by Close Play

Entrants in the Ping Pong tournament are reminded that they must watch the Daily and the draw sheet in order to know when they are to play. Due to laxity in this matter only three matches were played yesterday.

The tournament has featured close competition and yesterday's games followed this trend. Jack Rubinovich downed his opponent after a tough battle to qualify for the second round. In other matches Francis stopped Myer Lapedis 18-21, 21-14, 21-16, 18-21, 21-11 in a gruelling five-game match while Wolfe trounced Shiller after a slow start. The scores were 21-19, 20-22, 19-21, 21-9, 21-11.

The following matches must be played today under penalty of default: Wright vs. Novokowsky, Palmer vs. Smith, Cohen vs. Davicho, Vincent vs. Reade, Joseph vs. Bouchard, Mahabir vs. Sherman.

been aroused among the hoopsters regarding their trip to Canton, N. Y., on December 1, where they will play an exhibition match against the featured five of St. Lawrence University. This is the first game to be played against an American college this year, and is to be considered as a prelude to the game between McGill and Clarkson Tech. on December 8.

ed the Artsmen numerous nights of anxiety. In the field Morowitz is a sure-fire ball hawk who "get's'em where they ain't".

All in all the teams appear very close and as result whoever wins will have to go all out and may rest assured on a tough fight.

HE'D LIKE TO KNOW YOU Personally

The service you receive from your bank is rendered so quietly and efficiently that the human values behind it may not have occurred to you.

Think, for instance, of the confidence you rest in your branch bank manager, perhaps without even knowing him well personally. You ought to know him better. By depositing your money in his branch, you made him and his staff the custodians of your account and the transactions relating to it. You hold him in high trust, knowing that your private affairs will be kept private:

You will find your bank manager a trained man who has come up through the ranks, and who will be glad to discuss your financial needs with you and to inform you as to the appropriate service his bank can render.

Should you desire a personal loan to meet some unexpected expense, talk it over with him. You can depend on receiving courteous, understanding and friendly consideration. Small loans are just one of the services your bank provides. You may be surprised to learn of many other services available for your use.
